

Friends,

I hope you've been able to tune in and enjoy the live-streaming liturgies we've been doing, especially during this Holy Week. It's certainly not the same as being physically together, but it is a way for us to stay spiritually united during this most sacred time of year.

Here's the live-streaming schedule for the next couple of days as well as some other information:

Holy Saturday

9:00 Morning Prayer

7pm Rosary and Divine Mercy chaplet

Note: there will be no confessions tomorrow; however, the church will be open for private prayer.

Easter Sunday

10:30 Easter Mass

Parish Giving

Once again, someone from the Knights of Columbus will be in church between 3:00-5:00 tomorrow and between 7:00-11:30 on Sunday morning if you wish to drop of your parish contribution.

I do encourage you to consider e-giving which is secure and convenient. You can give one time or set up recurring contributions. Here is the link: saintpiuswesterly.org/...

You can also Text-to-Give. Simply text the word "Give" to 401-205-3821.

I am truly grateful for your continued parish support. As I've said, I understand that many are unable to give, and that is understandable. If you're not able to give financially, please know that we need you to continue to give spiritually by praying for our parish and all those in need!

Parish Outreach

We still have many volunteers willing to do grocery shopping and other essential errands. Simply call the rectory Monday through Friday during business hours (596-2535 ext. 2).

I am grateful to so many who are making masks. Jenn O'Connor has done a great job coordinating this effort. Several masks have been made already, and there are more to come. There are masks in the vestibule of the church. Please take a mask if you need one.

My friends, I pray for you every day. I miss you and long for the day when we will soon be reunited in church to celebrate the Holy Mass together.

With much love and prayer,
Fr. Najim
